

School holidays 2024

Half term is now here and not checked the weather but you can still have lots of fun.

Have your children depending on age to write down what they would like to do

Have a family meeting and go through that activities that includes all your children like going to an adventure park, like Ninja Warrior Adventure parks or to a local farm, painting, doing arts and crafts or play a board game.

Plan a day to do some baking with your kids or create picky bits and you can use healthy foods, like wholemeal wraps, salad and with fresh meats, sandwiches. or a afternoon family tea.

Plan a sleepover. This is always good fun and as kids would do this a lot and plan to watch a movie or some TV, and preplan what to watch and pre select items in your TV Planner.

Book a trip to the cinema and have a budget for the trip and pre-buy snacks and drinks

Check out the music festivals, we last year went to one called Pub in the park and was kid friendly and a really good day out, and with some you can bring food and drink, some like the ones in Hyde Park for example you couldn't, but is a good day out and again budget and pre-plan by checking out what you are allowed to set a budget by having meal before you get there.
